(c) Attests that the information provided on the application is true and accurate.

(i) Employers must retain documents sufficient to substantiate the information provided on the application.

(ii) After the application is submitted, the department may ask employers for documents substantiating the information provided on the application.

(iii) The department may deny relief of benefit charges from the COVID-19 unemployment account if the department requests documentation from an employer and the employer fails to provide documentation sufficient to substantiate the information provided on the application.

(2) Definition of approved employee. For purposes of this section, an "approved employee" is an employee who:

(ii) The individual left employment due to a request from a medical professional, local health official, or the secretary of health in order to be isolated or quarantined as a consequence of COVID-19, even if the employee or the employee's immediate family member was not actually diagnosed with COVID-19.

(b) Spent at least one week of their unemployment described in

(a) of this subsection on standby pursuant to WAC 192-110-015; and

(c)(i) Prior to September 26, 2020, worked at least four weeks with their employer in suitable work with a rate of weekly pay at least ninety percent of the rate of weekly pay the employee had prior to becoming unemployed as described in (a) of this subsection.

(ii) Worked less than four weeks with their employer if, after working at least one day, the employee:

(A) Was discharged for misconduct; or

(B) Voluntarily quit for reasons not attributable to the employer.

(3) Benefits not eligible for relief. In calculating the amount of benefits eligible for full or partial payment by the COVID-19 unemployment account, the department will not include:

(b) An employer may not appeal the denial of an application for relief of benefit charges from the COVID-19 unemployment account.

(c) Independent of the right to request relief of charges from the COVID-19 unemployment account pursuant to this section, an employer still retains the right to request relief of the underlying benefit charges pursuant to WAC 192-320-065 and appeal any denial of that request under WAC 192-04-060.
