Brief Description: Establishing the legal presumption of reasonable value from the certification of health care records.

SB 5490 - DIGEST

Provides that, in a court of law, in an action to recover damages for personal injury, the amount stated in a health care provider's billing statement certified under this act for treatment provided to a patient is presumed to be the usual and customary value of health care treatment, and the statement is admissible in evidence to establish that the charges are usual and customary charges in the community.
