2018 Annual Report to the Legislature

Foreword

“It is the intent of the legislature to promote safe state correctional facilities. Following the tragic murder of Officer Jayme Biendl, the Governor and Department of Corrections requested the National Institute of Corrections to review safety procedures at the Monroe Reformatory. While the report found that Monroe Reformatory is a safe institution, it recommends changes that would enhance safety.

The legislature recognized that operating safe institutions requires ongoing efforts to address areas where improvements can be made to enhance the safety of state correctional facilities. This act addresses ways to increase safety at state correctional facilities and implements changes recommended in the report of the National Institute of Corrections.”

Legislative Declaration, RCW 72.09.680 [2011 c 252 §1]

Executive Summary

Background

Following the murder of Officer Jayme Biendl in 2011, the National Institute of Corrections (NIC) was asked to review systems, policies, and procedures and submit recommendations to mitigate safety and security vulnerabilities at the Washington State Reformatory (a unit of the Monroe Correctional Complex).

The NIC findings and recommendations led to the introduction of Engrossed Senate Bill 5907 (ESB 5907), at the request of Governor Gregoire, with the intent to promote safer prisons. ESB 5907 was signed into law (RCW 72.09) on May 5, 2011.

Report Overview

The Department of Corrections (DOC) promotes a culture that inspires personal responsibility for employee safety and facility security, both foundational elements of a public safety mission. In addition, the Department encourages all staff to take the initiative in actively addressing security and safety concerns and deficiencies as well as continual monitoring for safety and security improvements in all work areas, practices, procedures, policies and physical plant layout.

In this eighth annual report to the Legislature, the Department communicates the implementation status of legislative mandates to incorporate the recommendations made and its dedication to the safety of all employees, incarcerated individuals, and members of the public.

Commitment to Safety

All citizens expect to be safe and protected in their communities, and Governor Inslee has made this a priority as recognized in Results Washington Goal 4: Healthy and Safe Communities. The Department's paramount duty is to improve public safety and one key goal is to enhance safer operations. The Department through Results DOC, measures improvements related to safer operations with outcome-based measures that include employee safety, safety of individuals under the Department's jurisdiction, providing basic needs, ensuring safe environments, and managing emergencies. The Department promotes a culture of employee safety and facility security and remains deeply committed to, and actively engaged in, improving employee, individual, and community safety.

Mac Pevey, Assistant Secretary for Community Corrections, offers, "Staff safety is at the very core of what we do and how we best accomplish our mission. To continue moving forward with the work of improving public safety, we must have safe and secure institutions and field offices in order to effectively transition and reenter individuals into our communities. The annual Staff Safety Report reaffirms the commitment of the Department of Corrections and our employees to continuously strive to establish, maintain, and/or improve the safety of our staff in often unpredictable, dynamic, and dangerous environments in which they work. Staff safety has evolved from conversation and concepts to signification actions and enhancements. Department employees have dedicated themselves to advance safety and security initiatives for themselves, for each other, and the communities they serve. Staff safety has become imperative in everything we do."

Security Advisory Committees

The Security Advisory Committees are comprised of local and statewide committees that support and encourage employee to take the initiative in identifying and reporting employee safety concerns and facility security gaps as well as furnish an avenue to address them.

DOC employees continue to suggest innovative solutions to everyday challenges and actively engage in the process to increase their own safety as well as the safety of others. The success of this approach can be attributed to the support received from all levels of the Department. By incorporating multidisciplinary employee from all classifications, the submittals are broad and diverse, the work is progressive and impactful, and the resolutions highly successful. Table 1 provides a summary of the suggestions submitted to date.

Local Security Advisory Committees

Local Security Advisory Committees are active in all 12 prisons and meet regularly. These committees are chaired by the senior custody employee (Captains or Lieutenants) and include employees from a variety of disciplines who review and discuss security concerns and suggestions that have been submitted locally.

When a local security suggestion is submitted by an employee to the facility's Security Specialist, the suggestion is then queued for review by the Local Security Advisory Committee. Using a facility-wide, multidisciplinary approach, local committees examine each suggestion for employee safety and security benefits if the suggestion was to be implemented, while also considering any unintended consequences on other areas of the facility or the possibility of statewide impacts.

Examples of submissions of local safety and security concerns at individual prisons that resulted in subsequent changes in practices in 2018 are summarized below:

- Flex Cuffs for Medical Procedures - At the Washington State Penitentiary, an incarcerated individual with a history of employee assaults was able to assault an employee with a weapon after he had been unrestrained for an x-ray. Based on employee input, it is now the practice to use flexible plastic restraints during x-rays for individuals on intensive management status.
- Kitchen Knives - A security concern was received from the Washington Corrections Center for Women noting the kitchen knives in the minimum security and main kitchens could be easily detached from security cables and locks. Working with facility maintenance, this security concern was resolved on the same day by upgrading the tether to a more robust design.
- Alpine Building Security Issues - At the Cedar Creek Corrections Center, gaps in security coverage of the Alpine Building made it difficult to detect security issues such as possible contraband introduction during operation of programs. This area was also identified as an area for potential violent acts to occur and go undetected. Collaborating with employees, local leadership moved the location of the programs to provide better security oversight.

Each local committee's work has proven to be extremely effective. This forum for reviewing employee initiated security suggestions emphasizes the strong local commitment to safety and security through the exchange of ideas, involvement of all employee and program areas, and facilitates a greater understanding of how all employees contribute to safer operations of the facility and public safety overall.

Statewide Security Advisory Committee

In some cases, a Local Security Advisory Committee determines a security suggestion may have statewide impact, requires a change to Department policy, or the costs to implement the suggestion are beyond facility budget capacity. In these circumstances, the suggestion is forwarded to the Statewide Security Advisory Committee for review and consideration.

As required by RCW 72.09.680, the Statewide Security Advisory Committee meets quarterly to evaluate safety and security concerns and suggestions forwarded from local committees that may affect Department policy or require legislative approval and funding. Committee work includes evaluating suggestions, making recommendations, and taking action on safety and security concerns affecting statewide policies and practices. In addition, the Statewide Security Advisory Committee assists in the development of safety curriculum presented to employee as part of Annual In-Service training for the Prisons Division.

Examples of statewide safety and security concerns that resulted in statewide safety and security improvements in 2018 are summarized below:

- NARCAN - NARCAN kits (an emergency injection to counteract opioid overdose) were distributed to multiple locations within each facility. Since implementation in Prisons, NARCAN has been successfully used to save the lives of incarcerated individuals on multiple occasions.
- Consistent Vendors - Prior to this suggestion, property of incarcerated individuals was being sourced from multiple vendors, making it difficult to screen contraband and created confusion among employees as to what was authorized for retention. To mitigate this concern, the Department coordinated with Correctional Industries to provide a single authorized vendor for property, which has increased safety and security.

- Internal Audit - Due to confusion between standards set by the Department's internal auditors and policy authors that sometimes arises, an employee recommended that specific time be set aside to clarify audit standards and the policy intent. This change has set the framework for more efficient audits and has helped increase standardization across the Department.

The examples above represent the complex work involved in evaluating and reviewing suggestions submitted for statewide consideration. Members of the Statewide Security Advisory Committee review each suggestion in detail, ask for additional information, or require a follow-up review with the appropriate local committee members or labor representatives before making a final recommendation.

This multidisciplinary process ensures each security suggestion, as in the case of the examples noted for 2018, that multiple employees and program areas have reviewed and agreed to support the suggestion. By the time a security suggestion is implemented, abundant sources of information have been consulted, numerous details have been worked out, and any potential negative impacts have been mitigated.

Staff Safety Performance Audit

In March of 2016, the Washington State Auditor's Office concluded a Performance Audit on Prisons Safety and Security that assessed whether the Department could do more to ensure the safety and security of employees and facilities. The State Auditor's Office published a final report which is available for public review.

After receiving the final report, the Department began taking action to review each recommendation and formulate an Improvement Plan (Appendix A) to address each of 13 areas identified for improvement. Many of the recommendations involve simply correcting gaps in policies and/or procedures and the majority of those either have been addressed or are in the final stages of completion. However, two of the recommendations (additional radios for non-custody employees and public access staffing) require legislative funding to implement as recommended.

Staffing Model Review

One of the recommendations in the State Auditor's report was the Department's staffing model was out of date and should be revised to include, among other things, the additional duties and tasks required of employees to increase staff safety and facility security. The Department received $400,000 of the general fund state appropriation for Fiscal Year 2019 to contract with an independent vendor to provide a comprehensive review of the prison staffing model and develop an updated prison staffing model for use by the Department. A vendor was selected and a contract issued in September 2018. As of October 2018, the staffing model review is currently underway and a preliminary report is due in February 2019.

Employee Searches

One of the recommendations in the State Auditor's report was to implement employee searches upon entering the secure perimeter of a prison (public access point). Implementing this suggestion involved lengthy discussions between Department Senior Leadership, bargaining unit representatives, and the Attorney General's Office. Once stakeholders had reached consensus on policy and procedures, the Department began conducting employee searches upon entry into the secure perimeter at major prison facilities, as staffing allows, in December 2016. In addition, 100% of all hand carried items are now searched before entry and a standardized authorized items list was published. The new policy will be effective early in 2019.

Data Driven Decisions

In keeping with LEAN principles and industry best practices, the Department has developed a security information dashboard. Contraband, assaults, fights, recounts, staff assaults, and use of force were determined to be the initial key metrics. By examining trends and comparing locations, the Department can be responsive to best practices and emerging issues sooner. By sharing this information with a broader group of leaders and managers, management informed decision-making is improved throughout the Department.

Place Safety Muster Update

Place Safety Musters are dedicated time (approximately one hour) set aside on a monthly basis for managers and staff to discuss safety and security issues relevant to that multidisciplinary team in that specific place with the goal to collect and act on feedback received. To ensure that leaders get the best feedback possible from line staff members, the facilitator guides for the Place Safety Muster Program have been streamlined and tripled the amount of conversation starters that are available to staff. .

Prisons Division Training

Prison Safety Series Curriculum

The Department promotes a culture that encourages personal responsibility for safety and security in prisons and has invested in extensive employee training programs. The Department is charged with developing training curriculum regarding employee safety issues at the Department's total confinement correctional facilities. The content, discussions, and activities delivered through annual in-service training target strategies for improving personal safety, the safety of others, and the safety and security of the work place as required by RCW 72.09.684. At a minimum, the training is expected to address the following issues: security routines, physical plant layout, individual movement and program area coverage, and situational awareness and de-escalation techniques.

Following up on the previous year's curriculum which looked at Understanding and Mitigating Security Lapses, the current year's course includes reviewing applicable Department policies and having employees discuss the importance of identifying, addressing, and reporting security issues when conducting security inspections. Employees discuss the entry and distribution of contraband within the facility and how to mitigate the threats. This focus allows employees to recognize their role and responsibilities when identifying and responding to these occurrences. Additionally, employees participate in an activity in which they review their roles and responsibilities in crime scene maintenance and preservation.

Lesson Objectives:

- As part of a scenario, employees will explain how to mitigate the entry of contraband into facilities as required by Department policy.
- Employees will identify why it is important to perform security inspections and support their reasoning using Department policies and procedures.
- Using Department policies, employees will demonstrate the process for identifying, securing, and preserving a crime scene through a classroom activity.

The Department considers the input of both the Statewide Security Advisory Committee and the Local Security Advisory Committee in developing annual in-service staff safety curriculum. The curriculum for this series was developed by a multidisciplinary team, reviewed by the Statewide Security Advisory Committee, and is being delivered to all Prison Division employees per the Fiscal Year 2019 Annual Agency Training Plan (Appendix B).

Electronic Security Technology

Full Body Scanners

The Department was funded for one full-body scanner to be piloted at the Washington Corrections Center for Women to determine whether this is a viable alternative to conducting strip-searches. The scanner has been purchased and while waiting for delivery, area modifications are being made to facilitate installation. The full-body scanner is scheduled to be operational by the end of 2018. The Department anticipates the use of this scanner will not only reduce the amount of contraband introduced into the facility, it will also decrease the volume of strip searches required during daily operations.

Employee Accountability System

The Security Management Unit is currently leading the effort to create a standardized, electronic system to account for all persons within the secure perimeter of all facilities. The Facility Access and Control Tracking system (FACT) collects, manages, and tracks data regarding all employees, facility visitors, volunteers and contract employees who enter and exit facilities. This system is able to account for persons within the secure perimeter of a facility in real time by reading a bar code embedded onto the identification card. The FACT system improves accuracy and significantly reduces the amount of time it takes to conduct accountability procedures.

The FACT system went live at Stafford Creek Corrections Center (SCCC) in October 2017 as a pilot. Following the conclusion of the pilot in June 2018, stakeholders were confident that the FACT system will meet accountability needs on an enterprise level. Currently, the FACT system is scheduled to be presented to Department leadership for consideration of implementation department-wide. If approved by leadership, DOC will need to request funding to implement state-wide.

Radio Communications

The following are steps the Department is taking to increase efficiencies with radio communications:

- Continuing to secure Mutual Aid Agreements (MAA) with law enforcement jurisdictions to support the communications needs of the Department and increase employee and public safety when working in the community.
- Purchased and installed replacement communications tower at Larch Corrections Center.
- Continuing to acquire and deploy radio equipment as funding allotments permit.

Security Electronic Networks

The following are steps the Department is taking to increase staff safety and facility security through Security Electronic Networks:

- On-going proposal review to secure global maintenance agreement for service providers to support security electronic networks.
- Managing the numerous security electronic network projects in various stages of completion. From the expansion of video camera systems, to door and video control integration and replacements, to reviewing and identifying critical systems for upgrade prioritization, the enhancements being made to the security electronic networks have a direct impact on increasing employee safety and facility security.
  - Five prisons are currently operational, with expansion occurring to add cameras to enhance and improve video coverage.
  - Two prisons are presently in review to upgrade and install security electronics network infrastructure which will support camera installation.
  - Two prisons are presently in final contract review for security electronics network door control upgrades.
  - In addition to prisons, three Work Release facilities have been upgraded with camera systems that work in conjunction with security electronic network systems.

Community Corrections Safety

The Community Corrections Division (CCD) continues to update policies and procedures aligned with the CCD evidence based supervision model. The ongoing review and implementation of changes is done with a focus on employee safety and office security while maintaining accountability of those individuals supervised in the community.

Community Corrections Security Advisory Committee

The Statewide Community Corrections Security Advisory Committee continues to meet quarterly to evaluate safety and security concerns and suggestions that may affect department policy, budget, and workload. The committee is co-chaired by a CCD Program Administrator and a DOC staff representative of the Washington Federation of State Employees. The committee membership is comprised of the CCD Security Specialist and employees from around the state and a variety of job classifications. The committee recently amended the bylaws to extend committee membership from two to three years. This will assist in the elimination of constant turnover of committee members. The charge of the committee is to review and develop recommendations, propose solutions, and evaluate best practices related to employee safety and office security within CCD.

Additionally, the Community Corrections Security Advisory Committee assists in the development of employee safety and office/operational security curriculum presented to employee as part of the annual in-service training for the Community Corrections Division.

Examples of 2018 statewide community corrections safety and security initiatives/concerns that resulted in improvements are summarized below:

- Violator Transports - CCD has a number of transport vans to facilitate movement of violators to holding facilities. This past year the majority of the transport vans were equipped with audio/video monitoring equipment capable of recording. This provides enhanced safety for both employees and those individuals in custody.
- Vehicle Kits - 300 emergency bags for vehicles were purchased and distributed to meet policy expectations and enhance employee safety while operating a state vehicle. Each emergency bag contains those emergency items needed per the Department's vehicle use policy (i.e., fire extinguisher, road triangles, first aid kit) as well as additional items that provide for employee safety as needed (i.e., emergency blanket, water, flashlight).
- Restraint Bags - 100 restraint bags were purchased and distributed to field offices. The bags include wrist, waist, ankle, and zip tie restraints as well as cutters and spit hoods.
- Trauma Kits - Field Trauma kits were purchased and distributed to field employee for personal carry.
- NARCAN - All CCD employee have been trained in the use of NARCAN and approximately 1,600 doses have been distributed to field employees. To date, there have been three supervised individuals saved due to the administration of NARCAN by DOC staff.
- House Bill 2611 – In 2018, the "Peer Support Counselor" bill supported by both the Department and Washington Federation of State Employees passed. This bill extends protections to limited law enforcement agencies regarding privileged communication. CCD has trained a number of peer support counselors and currently has a workgroup looking at further recruitment and training.
- Pre-Employment Screening - CCD is moving toward pre-employment psychological and drug screening. This will provide CCD with the ability to make informed decisions in the hiring process and enhance the safety of employees. The implementation is contingent on funding of additional Department psychologist FTEs.

Community Corrections Division Training

Training in community corrections continues with an emphasis on skill enhancement which increases positive engagement with supervised individuals. The ability to engage individuals, and how to intervene in high-risk behaviors, promotes both employee and community safety.

A number of courses have been developed for delivery to employees in annual in-service training. These include:

- Arrest, Planning, Implementation II (API II)
- Evidence Training – custodian duties, handling, preservation, storage, labeling, etc.
- Drug Identification

- Firearms Identification – how to disarm, secure, transport, and disposal
- Use of NIK (drug) testing kits
- Use of Force Report and Incident Report writing
- Updated transport training

See Appendix C (Fiscal Year 2019 Annual In-Service Training Plan) for complete training plan for CCD employees.

Review of last year's Prison Safety material

Say something like: In last year's Prison Safety training we examined policies and procedures, reviewed the Clinton Correctional Facility escape case study, and we studied the Critical Incident Review (CIR) process.

Divide yourselves into 4 work groups.

You will use chart paper and markers to respond and should be ready to report out to the class in 10 minutes.

State: Groups 1 & 4: For each topic listed below, identify at least 3 breakdowns that can occur when policy and procedures are not followed. Chart your answers.

- Counts
- Movement and inspections
- Facility searches

Groups 2 & 3: For each topic listed below, identify at least 3 preventative measures to stop security issues from occurring. Chart your answers.

- Counts
- Movement and inspections
- Facility searches

Report Out: Groups 1 & 4: share 2-3 answers from your lists for each topic.

Groups 2 & 3: share 2-3 answers from your lists for each topic.

Ask: Why is it important to review these policies?

Review of the CIR Process

What are examples of critical incidents that you have heard of or can imagine occurring at your workplace?

Answers may include:

Dangerous contraband

- Fights
- Riots
- Assaults
- Death

Who is involved in a Critical Incident Review (CIR) and what do they do?

Answer:

- After a critical incident occurs, the Emergency Operations Unit (EOU) assembles a team and loops in stakeholders and other relevant parties. This team included staff from across the state and from a variety of job classes.
- After the team arrives at the location where the incident occurred, they conduct an investigation.

What gets reviewed during an investigation?

Answers should include:

Documentation

- Photos
- Video
- Audio
- Interviews
- Physical inspections

Why is it important to have CIR's?

Crime Scene Preservation Review

Ask:

What constitutes a crime scene?

Answers will vary, but should include:

- Any physical scene that may provide potential evidence to an investigator.

Say something like:

Crime scenes are fragile. Somewhere within the perimeter of a crime scene could be evidence that leads directly to the offender.

When discovering an area that could be a crime scene it is important to clear the area, set up the perimeter, and protect the area from contaminants or possible destruction of evidence.

Ask:

How does proper crime scene preservation help with the investigation? Answers may include:

- Helps recreate the scene which may later be presented in court.
- May prevent evidence contamination.
- Keeps evidence from being removed.

Say something like:

In this section we are going to review the step-by-step instructions on how to preserve a crime scene and identify common mistakes that can occur when preserving a crime scene.
