RCW 5.70.060 requires the Washington Attorney General's Office (AGO) to report, quarterly, on the investigational status of any sexual assault kit under RCW 5.70.050 to the Washington Association of Sheriffs and Police Chiefs (WASPC). RCW 5.70.060 also requires the WASPC to submit reports on the information collected to the Governor and appropriate committees of the Legislature. Please accept our report detailing our collective efforts regarding the status of sexual assault kits under RCW 5.70.050.

The AGO's cumulative report of data from January 1, 2022 to date is attached for your review.

WASPC looks forward to our continued partnership with the AGO on this important issue. Please let us know if you have any questions regarding this report. Please direct questions to Jamie Weimer, jweimer@waspc.org.

Sincerely,

ATTORNEY GENERAL OF WASHINGTON

Criminal Justice Division

800 Fifth Avenue • Suite 2000 • MS TB 14 • Seattle WA 98104-3188
(206) 464-6430

Dear Colleagues:

As you know, in 2015, Washington State began the process of testing all previously unsubmitted sexual assault kits across the state. In 2019, pursuant to RCW 5.70.050, the Washington State Patrol was required to facilitate the testing of those kits by December 1, 2021.

In 2021, the legislature passed RCW 5.70.060. This statute requires the Attorney General's Office to follow up on CODIS hits from sexual assault kits tested pursuant to RCW 5.70.050. Specifically, RCW 5.70.060 directs the Attorney General's office to collect information from the applicable law enforcement and prosecuting attorney agencies about the investigational status of cases arising from the hits.

In December 2021, the Attorney General's Office began requesting the information.

In the fourth quarter of 2024, our office has continued to request the CODIS hit investigational status forms from agencies. As of December 31, 2024, there have been 1898 CODIS hits to the offender database from the tested kits. The CODIS hits are to cases from 114 law enforcement agencies across the state. These numbers are likely to increase each month. Additionally, as convicted offender profiles are uploaded into the CODIS offender database, cases currently in the forensic database may return a hit.

The following charts are comprised of cases received in all of 2022, 2023 and 2024.

Each agency tracks and codes cases in accordance with their individual record management system. Not every agency uses the same records management system. Many agencies marked multiple selections on each form. Therefore the totals of the statuses in the below charts will not match the total number of questionnaires returned.

Agency cases requiring follow-up will occur continuously and on an as-needed basis. If a case is open and/or is currently with the prosecutor's office, we will collect the data and continue to intermittently follow up with the agency or prosecutor until the case is closed. Cases submitted for prosecutorial review, whether or not it was prosecuted, will have follow-up data collected directly from the Prosecutor's Office.

Requests to Prosecutor Offices are made once a Law Enforcement Agency returns a completed form that shows the case had been forwarded to prosecutors for consideration. 665 of the 1665 returned LEA cases had been referred to the Prosecutor's Office at some point in time. Our office has followed-up on 640 cases, which are comprised of 29 counties, 26 of which have responded to 569 of the 640 cases. Many Prosecutor Offices marked multiple selections on each form under "declined to file charges". Therefore the totals of the statuses in the below charts will not match the total number of questionnaires returned.
