WAC 391-45-110 Deficiency notice—Cause of action statement—Deferral to arbitration. The executive director, the executive director's designee, or an examiner shall determine whether the facts alleged in the complaint may constitute an unfair labor practice within the meaning of the applicable statute.

(1) If the facts alleged do not, as a matter of law, constitute a violation, a deficiency notice identifying the defects and specifying a due date for the filing and service of an amended complaint will be issued and served on all parties. If the defects are not cured within 21 days, an order dismissing the defective allegation(s) and stating the reasons for that action must be issued and served on all parties. Unless appealed to the commission under WAC 391-45-350, an order of dismissal issued under this subsection is the final order of the agency on the defective allegation(s) with the same force and effect as if issued by the commission.

(2) If one or more allegations state a cause of action for unfair labor practice proceedings before the agency, a cause of action statement summarizing the allegation(s) will be issued and served on all parties.

(a) A cause of action statement forwarding a case for further proceedings is an interim order that may only be appealed to the commission by a notice of appeal filed after issuance of an examiner decision under WAC 391-45-310(2).

(b) The cause of action statement limits the cause(s) of action before an examiner and the commission. A complainant who claims that the cause of action statement failed to address one or more causes of action the complainant sought to advance in the complaint may, before the issuance of a notice of hearing, seek clarification from the person who issued the cause of action statement.

(c) The cause of action statement must establish the due date for the respondent to file its answer.

(3) The agency may defer the processing of allegations which state a cause of action under subsection (2) of this section pending the outcome of related contractual dispute resolution procedures, but the agency retains jurisdiction over those allegations.

(a) Deferral to arbitration may be ordered if:

(i) Employer conduct alleged to constitute an unlawful unilateral change of employee wages, hours, or working conditions is arguably protected or prohibited by a collective bargaining agreement in effect between the parties at the time of the alleged unilateral change;

(ii) The parties' collective bargaining agreement provides for final and binding arbitration of grievances concerning its interpretation or application; and

(iii) There are no procedural impediments to a determination on the merits of the contractual issue through proceedings under the contractual dispute resolution procedure.

(b) Processing of the unfair labor practice allegations under this chapter must be resumed following issuance of an arbitration award or resolution of the grievance, and the contract interpretation made in the contractual proceedings is considered binding, except if:

(i) The contractual procedures were not conducted in a fair and orderly manner; or

(ii) The contractual procedures have reached a result that is repugnant to the purposes and policies of the applicable collective bargaining statute.

WAC 391-45-210 Answer—Contents—Amendment—Effect of failure to answer. (1) An answer filed by a respondent must specifically admit, deny, or explain each fact alleged in the portions of a complaint found to state a cause of action under WAC 391-45-110. A statement by a respondent that it is without knowledge of an alleged fact operates as a denial. An answer must assert any affirmative defenses that are claimed to exist.

(2) Counterclaims by a respondent against a complainant must be filed and processed as separate cases, subject to procedures for consolidation of proceedings.

(3) Motions to amend answers must be acted upon by the examiner, subject to the following limitations:

(a) Amendment is allowed if a motion to amend the complaint has been granted;

(b) Amendment may be allowed prior to the opening of a hearing, subject to due process requirements;

(c) After the opening of a hearing, amendment may only be allowed to conform the pleadings to evidence received without objection, upon motion made before the close of the hearing.

(4) If a respondent fails to file a timely answer or to specifically deny or explain a fact alleged in the complaint, the facts alleged in the complaint are deemed to be admitted as true, and the respondent is deemed to have waived its right to a hearing as to the facts so admitted. A motion for acceptance of an answer after its due date may be granted for good cause, unless the complainant can show that it would be prejudiced by such action in accordance with WAC 391-08-003.

WAC 391-45-260 Settlement mediation. A settlement mediation concerning substantive issues may be held under WAC 10-08-200(15).

(1) A different case number is assigned, and all documents for the settlement mediation are kept in a case separate from the documents in the unfair labor practice proceedings.

(2) An agency staff member other than the assigned examiner is assigned to explore settlement between the parties on the substantive issues.

(3) A settlement mediation may be held at any time before issuance of a decision by an examiner in the underlying unfair labor practice proceedings.

(4) During a settlement mediation, the parties will be encouraged, on factual and legal grounds including precedent on the particular subject, to resolve the unfair labor practice dispute.

(5) Participation in a settlement mediation is voluntary and nothing in this rule prohibits parties from exploring settlement on their own. Refusal by a party to participate in a voluntary settlement mediation does not prejudice that party in any manner.

(6) Conversations had and offers made in a settlement mediation are not admissible into evidence at a hearing.

WAC 391-45-310 Motions for discretionary review—Examiner decisions. (1)(a) A party seeking review by the commission of an interlocutory decision of the executive director, the executive director's designee, or an examiner must file a motion for discretionary review with the commission and a copy with the person who issued the interlocutory decision within seven days after the decision is issued.

(b) Discretionary review of an interlocutory decision issued by the executive director, the executive director's designee, or an examiner will be accepted by the commission only:

(i) If the executive director, the executive director's designee, or the examiner has committed an obvious error that would render further proceedings useless;

(ii) If the executive director, the executive director's designee, or the examiner has committed probable error and the interlocutory decision substantially alters the status quo or substantially limits the freedom of a party to act; or

(iii) If the executive director, the executive director's designee, or the examiner has so far departed from the accepted and usual course of administrative proceedings as to call for immediate review by the commission.

(c) The commission will not accept motions for discretionary review of:

(i) The scope of proceedings issued in a cause of action statement under WAC 391-45-110;

(ii) Application of the six-month statute of limitations; or

(iii) Any evidentiary ruling by an examiner during the course of a hearing.

(d) If a motion for discretionary review is filed, the due date for any response is seven days following the date on which a party wishing to file a response is served with the motion. Responses must be filed and served as required by WAC 391-08-120.

(e) A motion for discretionary review, and any response, should not exceed 15 pages (double-spaced, 12-point type) excluding appendices.

(f) Denial of discretionary review of a decision does not affect the right of a party to obtain later review of the interlocutory decision or the issues pertaining to that decision.

(2) After the close of a hearing and the filing of all briefs, an examiner shall issue a decision containing findings of fact, conclusions of law, and an order. Unless appealed to the commission under WAC 391-45-350, a decision issued under this section is the final order of the agency with the same force and effect as if issued by the commission.

(1) Individuals reinstated to employment with back pay must have deducted from any amount due an amount equal to any earnings the employee may have received during the period of the violation in substitution for the terminated employment, calculated on a quarterly basis.

(2) Individuals reinstated to employment with back pay must have deducted from any amount due an amount equal to any unemployment compensation benefits the employee may have received during the period of the violation, and the employer shall provide evidence to the agency that the deducted amount has been repaid to the Washington state department of employment security as a credit to the benefit record of the employee.

(3) Money amounts due are subject to interest at the rate that would accrue on a civil judgment of the Washington state courts from the date of the violation to the date of payment.

WAC 391-45-430 Motion for temporary relief. In addition to the remedies available under WAC 391-45-410, a complainant in an unfair labor practice proceeding may make a motion requesting that the commission seek appropriate temporary relief through the superior court. All such motions must be processed as provided in this section.

(1) When the complaint is filed, or as soon thereafter as facts giving rise to the request for temporary relief become known, the complainant shall file and serve written notice of its intent to make a motion for temporary relief with the executive director as required by WAC 391-08-120.

(2) Upon the filing of a notice of intent to make a motion for temporary relief, the processing of the matter must be expedited under WAC 391-45-110.

(3) After a determination that the complaint states a cause of action under WAC 391-45-110, the complainant may file and serve, as required by WAC 391-08-120, a motion for temporary relief together with affidavits as to the risk of irreparable harm and the adequacy of legal remedies.

(4) If a motion for temporary relief is filed, the due date for counter-affidavits is seven days following the date on which a party wishing to file counter-affidavits is served with a motion for temporary relief. Counter-affidavits must be filed and served as required by WAC 391-08-120.

(5) The executive director shall forward all motions and affidavits to the commission, which shall determine whether an injunction for temporary relief should be sought. In making its determination, the commission must adhere to the following policy:

The name and authority of the public employment relations commission may not be invoked in connection with a request for temporary relief before the completion of administrative proceedings under this chapter, unless it appears that one or more of the allegations in the complaint is of such a nature that, if sustained, the complainant would have no fair or adequate remedy and would suffer irreparable harm if the status quo is not returned pending the completion of administrative proceedings.

(a) If the commission concludes that temporary relief should be sought, the executive director, acting in the name and on behalf of the commission and with the assistance of the attorney general, shall petition the superior court of the county in which the main office of the employer is located or wherein the person who is alleged to be engaging in unfair labor practices resides or transacts business for an injunction for temporary relief.

(b) Whenever temporary relief has been procured, the complaint that has been the basis for the temporary relief must be heard expeditiously, and the case must be given priority over all other cases except cases of like character.

(c) A determination by the commission that temporary relief should not be sought at a particular time does not bar renewal of the motion for temporary relief following the completion of administrative proceedings in which unfair labor practice violations have been found to exist.

WAC 391-45-550 Collective bargaining—Agency determines mandatory subjects. It is the policy of the agency to promote collective bargaining negotiations between employers and the exclusive representatives of their employees. Parties are encouraged to engage in free and open exchange of proposals and positions on all matters coming into the dispute between them. Whether a particular subject is mandatory or nonmandatory is a question of law and fact to be determined by the agency and is not subject to waiver by the parties by their action or inaction. It is the policy of the agency that a party which engages in collective bargaining with respect to a particular issue does not and cannot confer the status of a mandatory subject on a nonmandatory subject.
